

Grant Application for the Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI) Certification and Grant Writing Assistance

Credit unions interested in certifying as a Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI) and/or acquiring grant writing assistance for the annual CDFI grant submission, may be eligible for grant assistance through the CrossState Credit Union Foundation.

This grant is intended to help underwrite the costs of outside expertise for the steps necessary to complete the certification process. The first step in this process is certification as a CDFI allowing an organization to apply for awards under the CDFI Fund's competitive programs. Once a credit union becomes certified, the second step is a grant proposal designed to help fund lending initiatives aimed at the underserved. Both actions may require the use of outside expertise. Credit unions selecting reputable providers as the outside expert may apply for assistance by completing this grant application. The provider(s) must be presented and approved by the Foundation prior to grant approval.

Grant Assistance will be based on need, readiness, and the likelihood of receiving CDFI funding. Need, readiness, and likelihood will be determined by the CrossState Credit Union Foundation's grant committee in consultation with outside experts described above. Funding is limited to one-half to one-third of the cost of certification and one-half to one-third of the cost of grant writing, for a combined total of up to $10,000, whichever is less. Add additional pages, if necessary.

Grant Repayment. Credit union-grantee understands and agrees that if a grant is awarded pursuant to this application, such grant is expected to be repaid. If a CDFI grant is funded and received by the credit union-grantee, credit union-grantee agrees to repay the Foundation in full and in one lump sum not later than 30 days after the CDFI grant is funded. If a CDFI grant is NOT awarded to the credit union-grantee, credit union-grantee agrees to work collaboratively with the CrossState Credit Union Foundation to develop a mutually agreeable repayment plan designed to repay the CrossState Credit Union Foundations at least 50% of the total grant over some period not to exceed twenty-four (24) months from the date of denial of a CDFI grant.
